Wisconsin Land Information Association 2016 Pre-Conference Workshop The ArcGIS App For Every Challenge

During this session we will focus solving real problems using apps that are available for managing land records right out of the box. We will look at selecting the right app and how it can be configured, and will demonstrate the very latest, most exciting apps, and most valuable apps available. Examples may include apps to manage property inspections, property violations, and planning and development. You will see how to get up and running fast, and how to use the right app wherever you are to access, use and record the information you need.
