

Wisconsin Land Information Association 2019 Pre-Conference Workshop Legal Issues in GIS

Brief Description:

Join us for an introduction into the legal aspects of working in the geospatial profession. The course is structured around exploring the sparse case law surrounding GIS.

We'll touch on public policy issues, as well as discuss state open records acts, geospatial data acts, the individual cartographer's liability for errors and omissions, your organization's sovereign immunity, data copyrights, the privacy of your constituents, GIS data use licenses, plus you'll get to ask all the questions you want.

Do you know what you should know before you are called to testify in court? No? Well then, we'll discuss how the difference between how the law applies to you as a geospatial worker, versus how it applies to your organization. If we have time, we'll talk about the gathering geospatial data licensing legal storm that may be about to unfold.

Instructor:

Chris Dunn owns a GIS consulting business and is a lawyer licensed to practice law in Missouri. He enjoys doing GIS much better than practicing law.
